

ECE News - Help drive the latest advancements in Endocrinology!

The Late-breaking Abstract submission deadline is fast approaching!

There is one week left to submit your research to ECE 2024.

As you know, ESE is THE event in the endocrine community's calendar to attend. It provides an incredible opportunity for you to showcase your research and to collaborate with colleagues on future research endeavours!

Your work also contributes to the future of clinical research and patient treatment. Every accepted abstract will be published in Endocrine Abstracts – a permanent, citable record of the Congress, freely available to all without access restrictions.

We look forward to seeing you in Stockholm in May!

Late-breaking Abstract submission deadline: 26 February 2024 (23:59 CET)

A reminder of the presentation types at ECE 2024

Oral Communications

Authors will be asked to present their research live on stage and delegates will have the opportunity to ask questions. Please note you will need to attend in person in Stockholm to present in this way.

Rapid Communications

Authors will be asked to submit a pre-recorded presentation of their poster which will be shown in the session room in Stockholm and all presenters will be invited on stage for a joint live Q&A session. Please note you will need to attend in person in Stockholm to present in this way.

Physical Poster

Successful authors will be asked to bring a physical poster to the Congress to display in the poster exhibition area. We also ask authors to upload an ePoster which will be added to the ECE 2024 virtual platform (ESE On Demand) for our ECE@Home audience to view. Please note you will need to attend in person in Stockholm to present in this way.

ePoster

Authors will be asked to upload an ePoster which will be displayed on ePoster stations in the poster exhibition area. ePosters will also be available to view online (on ESE On Demand) during and after the Congress. All scientific content will be accessible via ESE On Demand. Please note you will not be required to attend ECE 2024 in person.
